

A SPOTLIGHT ON COVID

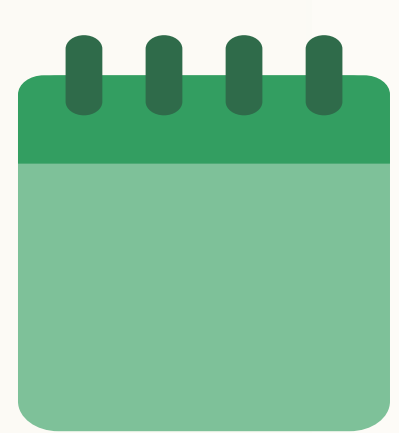

Providing a dedicated place to share resources and local action in response to the pandemic.

• WHY COVID ON THE WELL?

The Well is already known in the East as an information hub for local knowledge and expertise. Its flexible design makes it easy to readily collate, store and share information relevant to the pandemic.

• WHAT INFORMATION DOES THE WELL PROVIDE?

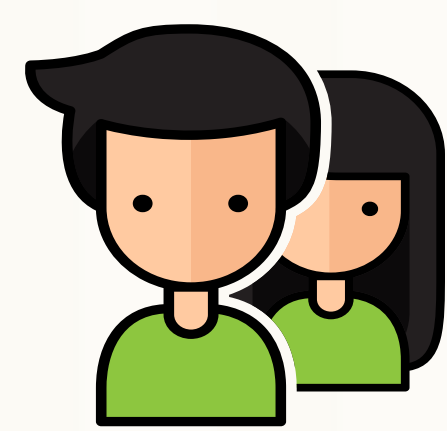

Local tips and learnings on how organisations adapted to COVID.

Examples of local projects and initiatives in response to COVID.

A wide range of service response & delivery updates.

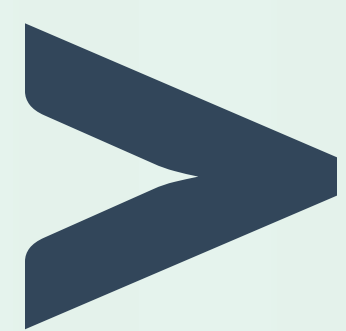

The work of local groups and alliances in response to COVID.

• HOW DID THE WELL MAKE IT HAPPEN?

A Request went out to The Well community via PCP networks for resources and stories to share.

Strong existing local relationships & partnerships ensured a good response to this request.

The flexible structure of The Well instantly provided a space to store and filter information received.

Record of local initiatives, resources and practice wisdom began to grow & develop on The Well.

Moving into recovery phase, information can be updated & refreshed ensuring it is contemporary and relevant.
